THE SEASIDERS

By THE EDITOR.

Today the famous Penarth Club visit the Cardiff Arms Park and they are very welcome. Down through the years there has been a happy relationship between Cardiff and Penarth, and we hope that it will continue as long as the Rugby Game continues.

It is true that Cardiff has enjoyed greater success since the War than Penarth, but it has in no way spoiled the friendly rivalry existing between the Clubs, or prevented the two annual fixtures between the Clubs from being interesting and well-contested. Indeed on the odd occasion Penarth has pressed Cardiff hard and in 1948, defeated Cardiff at Penarth!

In the last 18 months, Penarth has placed great emphasis upon youth, and well balanced committee of experienced and enthusiastic followers has endeavoured to build a young and lively fifteen. This season they look like achieving their ambition for already Penarth has drawn with Newport and Ebbw Vale—two clubs who were among the leaders last season.

Thus Kevin Bush and his men should challenge Cardiff today and provide a first class game of Rugby Football.

Cardiff members can look forward to some lively work by the Penarth forwards led by Terry Smith and attacking promise from young Bob Payne, at outside half. The three-quarters are keen while Kevin Bush is one of the soundest full-backs in Club Rugby.

Cardiff had a splendid victory on Saturday when Pontypool were defeated by 21 points to nil. It was the complete answer to the critics. The forwards did their stuff and after a steady first half display, were able to give their backs plenty of chances in the second half.

At half-back, Rex Willis and Cliff Morgan were in tremendous form, and look fit and ready to represent Wales again together. The two wings, Haydn Morris and Gwyn Rowlands scored five tries between them, a fine performance.

Bleddyn Williams guides the side well and last but not least, full-back John

Llewellyn who is playing really well. They will all meet their greatest "test" of the season so far on Saturday, when they play Newport at the Cardiff Arms Park
