Club Notes

ONCE again we have great pleasure in welcoming the famous Cardiff team to the glades of Sudbury. In South Wales it was thought that with the retirement of a number of their stars the Welsh Metropolitans might be in for a slump for several seasons—but here they are again—right at the top. It is true they have "nodded" twice to Oxford University and Northampton, but both of these are proving themselves most formidable sides and, in any case, the margin was of the slightest. Incidentally, be it noted, Cardiff have already played 18 matches this season, winning 16 and scoring 293 points to 98. They have thus averaged over 16 points per game against, roughly, 5½.

Our visitors have paid us the compliment of bringing absolutely their best side. It is true Rex Willis is not with them; but he has been crocked all the season and in his place has arisen yet another fine scrum-half—Brian Mark. How fortunate to be able to fill this key position in such a manner. Quite a number of clubs would have been almost paralysed at the retirement of Haydn Tanner, but they seem to be able to produce many fine players out of the hat, as it were.

We had a grand game last week with the Edinburgh Accies, and the last quarter of an hour was something to remember; but we did not just manage it. A successful goal kick would have made a draw of it, but we simply cannot kick goals at present; and if we cannot improve in this respect it is bound to cost us dear.

The air-trip made by the Accies last week captured the attention of everyone and as it turned out an unqualified success from all points of view it may well set a new fashion in Rugger travel.
