CARDIFF RESERVES	1	2	11
MACHEN	1	0	4

COMMENTS.

Machen were not seven points the weaker side. They did most of the attacking, and their forwards were vastly better than Cardiff's. In fact, half the Cardiff pack should be dropped for winging. The home backs were fairly good. Stanley Williams deserves credit for his brilliant try, and R. P. Jones for his clever opening and magnificent pass, which gave Tudor Williams his try. On the other hand, Machen were quite as good a side in every department.
