Welcome to the "All-Whites"

By THE EDITOR.

Welcome to the "All-Whites", our great and friendly rivals from the West. One of the most famous and popular of Welsh clubs, they are attractive, and can be relied upon to put up a good show.

They are to be congratulated upon making a magnificent recovery after the lull of the war years, for players and committee alike have worked particularly hard to re-establish the club. Now they are enjoying the reward of their efforts, for they have a comfortable balance in the bank and a good side, with plenty of capable reserves in the Athletic XV.

What is more important, they have a happy reputation for being good sportsmen in victory and defeat. Who will forget their great effort last season when they won a magnificent victory over Cardiff at the Arms Park? May we have such a game today!

There are some new faces in the Swansea team today and spectators will be interested to see how they weather their first "baptism" on the Cardiff Arms Park. Terry Davies is an 18 year old full-back and made a promising debut two weeks ago. Wyn Bratton, who normally plays at full-back, moves into the centre, with Len Davies to strengthen the defence.

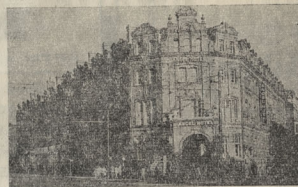

Danny Lewis, back this season at outside half, will make his first appearance for several years at the Arms Park. He and Roy Sutton should form a lively half-back combination. The pack is strong, too, with three internationals and several 'trialists'. Bryn Evans packs in the second row to allow L. Blyth to act as lock-forward.

Cardiff will also be at full strength, apart from Des O'Brien, who is playing for Ireland today against France. Bleddyn Williams and Jack Matthews will be together in the centre and Willis and Morgan at half-back, and if the pack under Bill Tاملين get a fair share of the ball, then we should see a great game.

Unfortunately the Arms Park is still a little soft, although it is improving from day to day, and it might slow down back play. Mr. Harold Phillips, of Neath, will be the referee.

Congratulations to the three members of the Cardiff team who played so well for Wales against England last Saturday. Jack Matthews, Rex Willis and Cliff Davies were in grand form.

Again we must praise the depleted Cardiff side which played so well against Bath last week. Apart from the members of the Welsh XV there were four absentees
