

CARDIFF WALES

These University of Cape Town engineering students delivered a bikini-clad maiden to the middle of Newlands rugby field just before the start of the Cardiff versus Southern Universities match yesterday.

The astonished crowd of 26,000 saw her unfurled from a Cardiff banner, then hoisted shoulder-high and carried to the front of the grandstand. She disappeared from the field amid thousands of wolf whistles. The brave girl was an art student, Jacqui McLachlan.

Pictures of the match, which Universities won 14-11, are on page 19. A report is on page 24.

H. O. DE VILLIERS, heelagter van die W.P.-studente, skop die bal veld op in gister se groot rugbywedstryd op Nuweland. Jannie Engelbrecht (regs) sit dit agterna. Agter hom is die Cardiff-slot Lyn Baxter. Die studente het met 14—11 gewen.
