Play and Players.

Last Saturday's match with the London Welsh was a splendid one from practically every point of view. Judged territorially Cardiff certainly had the best of the game, but in the matter of enterprise and combined movement the London Welsh were superior, and they did not deserve to lose by one penalty goal, two tries (nine points) to one try (three points).

It was distinctly fortunate for Cardiff that Delahay, Male, Llew Williams and Jim Burns were playing, as otherwise we would, we feel sure, have to chronicle a defeat. As it was, the presence of the above four players did not contribute materially to the success of the day, which was due to the fact that there was more initiative and rhythm and swing about the visitors' back play, and it was only deadly tackling on certain occasions that prevented the "Exiles" from scoring another try or two.

The Cardiff forwards heeled the ball out in fair proportion, but the backs did not follow up the advantage, and this was primarily due to the weakness of the right flank. Hugh Johnson, at centre, while scoring an opportunistic try of his own, robbed his side of another try or two by his weakness in handling. If he can overcome this obstacle he will make a splendid centre, as he has ample physique and dash.

Delahay was more subdued than usual, but Llew Williams, when given the opportunity, did some brilliant things. Poole and Bowcott did well at half, but we expected more from them somehow.

It was obvious to all that the mastermind of the London Welsh side was W. C. Powell, their captain and Welsh International, who, apart from certain deficiencies in kicking, played a brilliant game. He continually set the ball going among his backs, and often did this when really defending stubbornly—without, he was also a very inspiring leader.

The youthful London Welsh pack played bravely against more experienced players, and M. H. Evans, the Cardiff boy, was always in the vanguard.

The outside half, T. Ellis Jones-Davies, ably supported his captain, and contributed some rare runs, while the youthful threequarters further supplemented this by some clever passing, typical of real Welsh back play. While J. D. Bartlett might have been the more aggressive in attack, he was not so pronounced in defence. Boyle at full back performed well.

It was a very pleasant game, and one thoroughly enjoyed by the fair crowd present. We feel that we are re-echoing the sentiments of a big number of supporters by stating that the London Welsh should not be omitted from our fixture lists in future.

The Plymouth match was played before a record crowd, which was treated to a really fine game, the ball being given plenty of air. The lead was taken early by Cardiff, then by Plymouth, by Cardiff again, until in almost the last minute Tom Evans—a former Llanelly centre—scored a good try under the posts, which was converted, to equalise the score of 16 points each.

The Plymouth officials and the local Press were loud in their praise of the open play of the Cardiffians, as the match proved to be the best spectacle of the season so far.

Cardiff met a strong side in the Devon Services XV., who, in addition to thrustful backs, had a very fiery pack. Their forwards appeared to be over-vigorous, and harassed the Cardiff eight severely in the first fifteen minutes. The Taffside eight had perforce to play the Services at their own game, and the struggle for mastery between the two packs became intense. The Services backs were given plenty of chances, and although they made every endeavour to score, cutting through, and feinting, or by using the speed of the wings, on no occasion did they succeed, owing to the superb defence of the Cardiff threes. It is safe to say that on no occasion this year have the Cardiff backs been called upon to do so much tackling and defensive work generally as in this game and come through with such credit. This is borne out by the fact that the Services' only score was a penalty goal. As for the forwards, they were subjected to a most gruelling time, and in my opinion the struggle in front was the hardest that any Cardiff pack has been called upon to face since the post-war games started, this including games with visiting touring sides. A hard-earned victory in the real sense of the word. The scorers for Cardiff were: Against Plymouth, Arthur Williams, 1 penalty goal and two converted goals; Danny Davies, B. R. Turnbull and P. Bunce, 1 try each. Against Devon Services, Danny Davies, Dai Davies, 1 try each; Arthur Williams, a dropped goal.

In this connection, it was certainly a great achievement to return undefeated from such a tour, and we are particularly pleased to learn from a certain source that Danny Davies, who captained the side in Delahay's unavoidable absence, played remarkably well, and was considered the "star" artiste of the Blue and Blacks.

The social side of the trip was another great success, and whilst enjoying themselves thoroughly, both players and officials conducted themselves everywhere as sportsmen should. There were humorous side-issues, and a certain interested friend has put the following questions to the Editor:

(1) Whether Tancius Lee could have eaten those extra six slices of cake, or whether his aeroplane flight with Trevor Preece affected his appetite.

(2) For what reason a certain car party of four was mistaken for A.O.F.B. members who had taken part in the opening of a Devonshire vat on the Monday night of the tour.

(3) Whether a certain forward, of previously unblemished character, apologised to the Devonport Services full back for having—unconsciously—administered a "coup-de-grace."

(4) And whether the 'action' resulted in his being taken home by his brother the same evening.

(5) Why another forward was unsympathetically told by a member of his own pack, after having bitten his tongue during the Plymouth match, that 'that would shut his blankety row up.'

(6) Whether 'Trotting around the Globe' was responsible for the fitness of the Cardiff players in their match against Devonport Services, or if it was not the charabanc trip to Princetown which made them 'Dartmoor.'

The collection made on the ground last Saturday week on behalf of Dr. Barnardo's Homes, realised the sum of £5 6s. 1d., and the promoters desire to thank those sportsmen who contributed their quota to this deserving cause, and also the Athletic Club for so kindly giving facilities to collect.

To-day's Competition No. 14

ANOTHER "LUCKY NUMBER" PRIZE.

The programmes on sale to-day are numbered consecutively on the top of the front page from No. 1 upwards. A draw will be made from the hat prior to the game this afternoon, and the owner of the programme whose number corresponds to that revealed will be entitled to the prize, which will be in the form of a voucher for 10/-, enabling the lucky winner to purchase goods to that aggregate value from any of the kind people advertising in this programme.

The lucky number will be announced on a board sent around the field at half-time, and the winner will forward a claim, accompanied by programme, by post to the Programme Editor, I. T. Austin, 11, Dumfries Place, Cardiff.

Cardiff's Jubilee.

Some time ago attention was called to the fact that this season was the Cardiff Rugby Club's Jubilee, and many of the enthusiasts keep asking the question whether it is proposed to celebrate such an auspicious event. The answer lies with the Committee, and we hope that we shall be in a position to make a tangible announcement from them very shortly.

To-day's Guests.

Welcome once more to our friends from Cross Keys, who for some inexplicable reason disappeared from the Cardiff fixture list a few years back. If our memory serves us correctly, the last time they played on the Park, they inflicted a defeat on the Blue and Blacks. In those days Cross Keys were exceptionally strong, and able to hold their own with any team in the Kingdom. Migrations of players to other districts gradually depleted their ranks, but they have kept the flag flying throughout it all and are still a power to contend with in Monmouthshire football.

In Steve Morris and Stan Winnill they have still two stalwarts of Welsh Rugby upholding the club's prestige. Forwards may come and forwards may go, but Morris and Winnill seem to go on for ever. The popular and hard-working Cross Keys secretary, Mr. E. D. Phillips, must have in his club equipment some monkey gland treatment to keep these two great forwards going. Steve Morris has earned fame as a Welsh forward. He got his first cap against England in 1920 and last played against France in 1925, his total caps numbering 19, while he captained the Welsh side against Scotland in February, 1925. Winnill made a meteoric jump to fame, but his International career was much shorter. He led the Welsh forwards against England in 1921, and his total of four caps were obtained in that season. Another International who has done yeoman service for Cross Keys is F. Reeves, the half-back, who played three times for Wales, in 1920 and 1921.

One of Cross Keys' star artistes this season has been L. Perkins, who has figured as reserve centre threequarter for Wales this season.

We are looking forward to an interesting game with Cardiff, keen on reversing the verdict at Cross Keys last month, when the Monmouthshire men won by 9 points to nil. In any case, let's hope for an open, spectacular exhibition.

Next Saturday—Blackheath.

There should be an excellent attendance on the Park next Saturday, when the famous Blackheath team pay us their annual visit. The 'Heathens have a warm team just at present, and an excellent record, and Cardiff will doubtless be particularly anxious to avenge the defeat sustained in London in October last, although the margin was only two points.

A considerable controversy is going on in certain athletic journals anent the various claims of Rugby and Soccer, due principally to the fact that several of the big Public Schools have dropped the dribbling code and adopted Rugby instead. We do not propose to enter into any argument respecting the merits of the two games. All we can say here is that in a City like Cardiff there is ample room for the two.

Supporters' Notes.

TO-NIGHT'S DANCE.

The Dance in aid of our funds, to be held to-night in the New Hut, Cardiff Arms Park, by the kind permission of the Social Section of the Athletic Club, promises to be a great success. An excellent band has been engaged, and an enjoyable evening should be the result. The tickets are 2/- each, exclusive of refreshments.

LAST SATURDAY'S MATCH.

Owing to our Ex-Schoolboys match having been cancelled, only our Senior team was engaged, and they played Brynmawr Ex-Schoolboys on our ground at Rhiwbina. A pleasant game resulted in an easy win for our boys, with the score: Supporters, 24 points; Brynmawr, nil.

DEATH OF MR. W. BECKETT.

Our cause, and that of Junior football in general, have sustained a severe blow by the death of Mr. W. Beckett. "Joe," as he was familiarly known, was a great favourite with our boys and committee, and we all feel that we have lost a sincere and true friend. Unfortunately, we did not hear of his death in time for us to be represented at his funeral, but to his loved ones we offer our true and sincere sympathy in the great loss which they have sustained.

TO-DAY'S MATCH WITH CAERLEON COLLEGE.

Immediately at the close of the game with Cross Keys our Senior team will meet the Caerleon College boys. The Collegians play bright, open football, and a good game should be the result. ROMILLY.

is all the more unpalatable as Danny is the captain-elect for season 1927-8, and we are sure that the players in particular will feel sore, as nobody proved himself a more ideal leader or looked after the comfort and social welfare of the players more than he did when he acted captain during season 1925-6. He started his football career with Penylan, and played for Penarth during season 1920-1. People are still talking of the sensational debut he made for the "Blue and Blacks" in 1921, and since then he has been one of the mainstays of our back division, first as outside half and subsequently as centre threequarter. However brilliantly he has played at certain stages in his career he had very little luck, and failed to achieve the highest honour, i.e., an International cap, although he well merited this last season. Danny has, however, appeared in the final Welsh Trials; has played for the County, and has captained the Civil Service Rugby team, and has secured the International cap awarded by that public body. It will further be remembered that Danny Davies, in conjunction with Arthur Cornish, were invited to join the British Rugby team which toured South Africa in 1924, but both were reluctantly compelled to decline the invitation on account of pressure of duties. Danny Davies will always be pleasantly remembered when the records of the Cardiff Club will be scanned and discussed in the future, and while we take the liberty of extending to him the appreciation and praise of the sporting patrons of this Club for his magnificent service, we are certain that we are also re-echoing the sentiments of such people by wishing him every success and happiness in his well-earned retirement.

The Penarth Game.

The return match with Penarth, which took place on Monday evening last, and resulted in a win for Cardiff by two tries to one, was in every respect a farce. The excitement and attraction of the City's return, following their historic Cup win, had its effect on players and spectators—there were only a handful present, while many players in the visitors' ranks failed to turn up until the match was well in progress. This was a poor compliment to Cardiff for their kindness in granting the Seaside's home and home matches, and an explanation should be demanded. For all that, it was a pity that the Cardiff Committee did not arrange a much earlier kick off or postpone the game until later on in the week.
