TO-DAY'S MATCH.

By THE EDITOR.

Chief attraction of Cardiff Athletic's third home match of the season against popular Monmouthshire visitors, Chepstow, today, is the first appearance since his return to this country of Cardiff, Wales and Great Britain centre, Dr. Jack Matthews. If supporters have been disappointed recently at the Athletic's thrust in mid-field they should be satisfied today. With Paul Ash making a welcome return to the other centre position, and provided the home forwards can supply their backs adequately we should see some really open football.

Chepstow, however, have always shown themselves eager to play an aggressive game at the Arms Park and a few superstitious souls believe that having lost their first two home games the Athletic are sure to make it "three for a Welshman." Whatever the result we are assured of a good game, and despite the roars from Ninian Park's direction there should be a cheer loud enough to be heard between the stands at the Arms Park today. So let's welcome back Dr. Jack and greet our visitors in true style.

Dr. Jack Matthews.

Stan Bowes, the Athletic captain, on behalf of his team, would like me to thank Dr. Jack Matthews for his fine gesture in turning out for the "Rags" this afternoon.
