HEINEKEN LEAGUE DIVISION I

Cardiff v. Neath

SATURDAY 9th MAY, 1992

KICK-OFF 2.30 p.m.

VOL. 1 ISSUE 21

Last season Neath won the inaugural Heineken League Premier Division Championship with something to spare and Cardiff finished fourth, below both Llanelli and Bridgend. Since then we have had a World Cup, a Five Nations Championship, a General Election, a Christmas and an Easter, not to mention a birthday, and in my case even more memorable, a pint or two with Colin Howe.

How things change, this season, Neath have lost seven games, and at best can achieve only a joint fourth place, whilst Cardiff are going to stay second from the bottom, even if they win today. Such are the vagaries of League Rugby. Nevertheless Neath have won the last five league games, and Cardiff their last two, and should the season be starting now, not finishing, I am sure that the positions in the 1st Division would be looking very different.

We last entertained Neath at the Arms Park on December 8th 1990. On that occasion our visitors were not imbued with the Christmas spirit, and decided against making us a present of that match. As a matter of fact it could be said that they were somewhat churlish in beating us 24 points to 3, which is not the way guests should behave, so we reciprocated by beating them 18 points to 3 at the Gnoll later in the season. Since then we have drawn with them again the the Gnoll, in January this year.

We have been playing Neath since 1878, and apart from the very earliest of days, probably some time before Brian Thomas joined them, there has never been an easy game against the All Blacks, and in recent years we have found success singularly difficult to achieve. During the last five or six years they have been the outstanding Club side in Wales winning either the Championship or the Cup, and both of them on a couple of occasions. Whether you liked their style or not, it is impossible to argue against their record, they certainly gave the rugby people in Wales a winning side on which to focus their thoughts, whilst the National team were experiencing a torrid time.

Our record against Neath is as follows:

CARDIFF YOUTH – SEASON 1991-92

The Youth team, captained by Howard Merrett finished the 15-a-side season with impressive wins in the ESSO and District Cups to retain both trophies.

S.A. BRAIN & COMPANY LIMITED WISH
CARDIFF RFC A SUCCESSFUL SEASON

it's Brains you want!

Coaches Jack Lewis and Gareth Jones and Chairman/Team Manager, Jim O'Donnell were delighted with the tremendous commitment and strength of character of this year's squad. In the ESSO Final against Maesteg, they scored 7 tries in their 34-9 victory. Huw Harries stepped in for the injured Matthew Brant to score 2 tries with others from Chris John, Martyn Madden, Stephen Rouch, Lawrence Dovey and Andrew Lewis.

In the bruising encounter with the merged Rumney Utd-Cardiff Harlequins team in the Cardiff & District Cup, a disciplined 2nd half saw Chris Mills, Paul Hennessy and Simeon Brunner outstanding. Stephen John and Chris John scored tries with Chris converting one, kicking two penalties and a drop goal with no reply from the opposition.

The 1000 points barrier was reached in their last game in a Season which saw 6 defeats in 36 games. There were notable victories over Coventry, Neath, Nuneaton, Glam. Wanderers, Newport, Northampton and Cheltenham. On their highly successful Irish Tour, they drew with Highfield and won at Cork Constitutional.

International caps at Youth and School level were won by Chris John, Andrew Lewis, Jason Hewlett, Stephen John, James Savastano with Chris Wilkins and Paul Douglas playing for Wales in non-capped games.

Top scorer was Jason Hewlett with 111 points, followed closely by Chris John with 109 in only 10 games.

Stephen Rouch was Top Try Scorer with 20 and Prop Paul Douglas was second with 14. A total of 280 tries were scored during the campaign.

Two Seven Competitions by the Youth where they retained the District and Mitre trophies concluded the Season.

At U16's level, the Club side coached by David Williams and Andy Moore won all but one of their 19 games.

Major successes include the double over Bath and victories against Neath, Llanelli, Newport, Cross Keys and Marseille. Andrew Fowler was capped at U16's level against England with Jason Kemble sitting the game out on the bench.

The U15's and U16's helped to retain the Stan Bowes Memorial Cup against Newport on Easter Monday in what has become the leading festival of Youth Rugby in the area.

Particular thanks to the ever present Trainer, Billy Woods, who has missed only a handful of the 55 games played this year.

Members should be delighted with the prospect of so many fine players moving on into the Senior sides, firstly for the U21's and then on to the highest level.

The Youth Coaches and Management are confident that with the present Youth policy and structure that more good players than ever before will now be attracted to Cardiff.

Rugby Quiz – No. 20

Let's have another look at our playing record again this week.

1. Who is the top try scoring forward?
2. Paul Kawulok is the top appearance player with 34 games. Who comes next?
3. We have only recorded 2 drop goals all season with both being scored by the same player. Who is he?
4. In all as yet we have achieved 16 wins from the 38 games played. What has been our best winning sequence?
5. Have we kept a clean sheet in scores against in any of the 38 games played to date?

KNOW THE LAWS

By J. E. MALCOLM THOMAS

RUGBY'S RULE CHANGES FOR SEPTEMBER 1992

A. THE SCRUM

1. In scrummages, front rows must advance to one arm's length of opponents and may not form scrummage until the referee has marked the place of engagement.
2. In a set scrummage the hooker may raise his foot when the ball leaves the hands of the player putting it in.
3. It will be illegal intentionally to lift an opponent off his feet or force him upwards out of a scrum.
4. When a five metre scrum is awarded it will be opposite the place where the ball became dead and not where it crossed the goal line.
5. The half back may not take any action while the ball is still in the scrummage to convey to opponents that the ball is out.

B. THE MAUL

An EXPERIMENTAL VARIATION, to be reviewed in one year's time states that:
"In a maul when the ball becomes unplayable, the team not in possession at the start of the maul will put the ball into the ensuing scrum."

To meet the requirements of this particular law, which, incidentally, is already part of Under 19 rugby, the players in possession must take the initiative and be more positive. Of all the law changes, this is the real challenge to players and coaches.

CORPORATE FACILITIES AVAILABLE AT THE GROUND

Several large suites, as well as many smaller function rooms, are available for hire on match days or at any time throughout the year.

Whatever your requirements, we can cater for all occasions. On match days we offer lunches or buffets for small parties or for large numbers of guests. At other times we can provide the facilities for private business lunches, large formal dinners and business exhibitions and presentations with catering facilities.

This prestigious venue is centrally located in the heart of the city with easy access from major roads and railways. It offers a quiet haven away from city bustle, and will impress your customers and clients.

QUIDNUNC'S COLUMN

I'M NOT entirely certain that Andrew Booth, Michael Hall and Andrew Phillip Moore (who isn't entirely certain either – about where the double 'l' in the Surname came from) should be allowed out – not together at any rate.

You see, if Andy Moore were to list his hobbies in a Who's Who, he would place top of the pile "Learning to cheat at pub quizzes." Believe me, he isn't learning by himself. His close ally Boothy – "we're arch rivals as scrum-halves on the pitch, good mates off it" – confesses privately that he can't play anything without cheating. And Mike Hall likes to win. The result is that, on certain Sunday evenings in a certain Pontcanna hostelry, the terrible trio may be found indulging in all manner of subterfuge to score an extra point in a general knowledge round.

Shame on them. Chaps who have been to Cambridge and Oxford shouldn't resort to such chicanery or even fourberie (it says here in my Thesaurus). Tut tut! Andy Moore is too nice a guy, even if some of his teammates call him Dr. Spock because of his ears and others Steffie because his nose matches the proportions of Steffie Graff's, to become involved with the dubious dealings of Messrs. Hall and Booth.

The big nose did get stuck into sufficient books for him to gain a 2:2 in Management Sciences at Swansea University for his BSc and then a special diploma in Social Studies at Oxford while reading rugby football and winning a blue.

Come to think of it, there was also a spot of chicanery involved in that try that Andy M scored at Twickenham as Oxford put Cambridge to rout. "There might have been just a suspicion that I was slightly off-side" is all he will admit about the 1990 Varsity match. He was certainly more than a nose in front.

It was about time he won a university honour. At Swansea, he was in three UAU finals against Loughborough, playing incidentally in three different positions, wing, centre and scrum-half. Swansea lost all three. By then, as well, Andy had won Welsh caps at Under 15 and Under 18 levels.

From which you will gather that today's final lecture of the season is devoted to the aforementioned Andrew Phillip Moore, though after a couple of minutes chat with him, I wished I'd gone elsewhere. "So you're Quidnunc," he said. "I've been reading your column since I was a young schoolboy." The nerve of it, suggesting that Quid is an old fogey. Yet I don't know: the veteran of some 200 programmes now, it does seem to be that rugby players, like policemen, are getting younger.

Andy Moore was born on September 6, 1968 in Cardiff and brought up in Caerphilly where he went to St. Martin's school before going on to Llanishen High and University. He played for Bedwas Under 7s, did play out-half at Under 12 (the last occasion in that position before this season's forays in the Heineken League) and will play anywhere except prop to get a game. He is 5ft 10in tall and 12stone 10, both seasonally adjusted.

He enjoys eating Chinese, Indian and Italian food, watching Only Fools and Horses, Cheers and Whose Line is it Anyway, being led occasionally astray in Cardiff's gambling dens by Bobby Newman and Mark Edwards (he still doesn't understand how they won £200 at dice) after the odd pint or two of cider. But most of all he enjoys the long-standing company of the beautiful Alex, who is currently at Reading University. He struggles to match Andy Booth on the golf course.

Workwise, he is employed by his father, a builder, which gives rise to his being called "Little Rich Boy". "Well, he drives a GTi, doesn't he?" says Boothy – jealously.

And rugby has shown him parts of the world like Japan, Hong Kong and Taiwan as well as three European countries (he played in Sevens tournaments in Limerick and Belfast last weekend) and New Zealand (where he was pipped for a place in the Welsh Under 19 team by Chris Bridges).

But education and travel has not taught him everything. When he first appeared in Oxford to be accepted, he had to attend a formal lunch. "The new potatoes looked superb so I asked for more as they were put on my plate," he recalls. "Ah," said the Master of the College, "I see you like water chestnuts".

And so another season passed. Summer well... and you may hear from me next September.

Before you buy an ordinary car, compare it with an Accord 2.0i.

The 2 litre class is highly competitive. In many ways you're spoilt for choice. With a wide range of cars. And some established and enviable reputations.

However, the Accord 2.0i narrows your choice. And questions those reputations. Justifiably.

Look at the facts.

A Formula one inspired 16 valve engine that develops 135bhp on unleaded fuel.

A programmed fuel injection system. Variable assist power steering, cruise control, electric sunroof, electric windows and anti-lock brakes. All fitted as standard.

Try finding those features on a more ordinary car without paying extra. You'll have to go a long, long way.

But you don't have to go far to see the Accord 2.0i. Just visit our showroom. Or, better still, give us a ring and we'll be pleased to arrange a test drive. You'll find there's no comparison.
