MESSAGE

from the Lord Mayor

As the curtain falls on my year of office it gives me great pleasure to unveil this promotion of our capital which will further enhance Cardiff's rapidly growing reputation as a City of Europe.

Organised by the Economic Development Unit of the City Council, Europe Week is a big flag waving promotional occasion with the City unfurling its banner as Europe's youngest capital.

These are exciting times for Cardiff and its surrounds as the preparations for the arrival of the Single European Market next year gathers momentum.

The Single Market will provide opportunities in abundance and Europe Week will be a curtain raiser as Cardiff sets out its stall for European traders.

The long association with our twinned Cities of Nantes in France and Stuttgart in Germany provides a solid foundation on which we can build and strengthen our European links.

One of my first tasks as Lord Mayor was to welcome Europartenariat to Cardiff. It was a great promotional event that channelled my thoughts towards Europe and the broader horizons. I recently took particular pleasure in accompanying the Secretary of State on his official opening of the European Business Centre within our Economic Development Unit.

It is appropriate that in my last few days of office Europe should again figure so prominently in the Cardiff events programme.

Europe Week is a pointer to the way forward and Cardiff is heading in the right direction as a market leader.

I wish it every success.

The Rt. Hon. the Lord Mayor of Cardiff
Councillor John Smith BSc (Econ)
