History of the Wanderers

Formed in 1893 by a group of ex-pupils from Monkton House School, Glamorgan Wanderers RFC was originally known as the Old Monktonians. A ground adjacent to the Station Hotel in Llandaff North provided a home base for the enthusiastic young club members until the advent of World War I caused a temporary suspension of activities.

The first landmark in the club's history occurred in 1913 when it was deemed necessary to change the name since membership had broadened, the Glamorgan Wanderers were suitably christened – very suitably, as it turned out, since home games had to be played on no less than seven different grounds!

In 1919 the club found a permanent home at the Polo Field, Whitchurch, and players were able to take advantage of facilities at the nearby Three Elms Hotel for headquarters. Social facilities took a great turn for the better in 1923 with the formation of the Wanderers Club Limited in Cardiff's Wyndham Arcade. This was one of the first such clubs to be formed in Wales and its unique atmosphere attracted Rugby aficionados from all walks of life and, on International days, from all over the world! It's closure in 1969 is still mourned.

In the meantime, the players had to sacrifice the Polo Field to the hands of the property developers in August 1950, and the Wanderers were once again in transit! For a season and half they played home games wherever they could, whilst an appeal launched after World War II to raise money for a ground gathered momentum.

In 1951 the promised land was found at St. Fagans Court, and on 29th April 1952 the Glamorgan Wanderers Memorial Ground was formally opened and dedicated to all those Wanderers who had died during the wars. By 1970 it had become sole headquarters for the club, and social facilities have since been extended to meet the needs of this first class club.

At one time the Wanderers were known as the finest losers in Welsh Rugby because of the type of game they played; six teams took the field every Saturday.

Although the playing history up to the 1960's was not outstanding they nevertheless produced some notable results including a 6-6 draw with Maesteg in their invincible season of 1949-50.

As the Club became less of a soft touch in the 1970's so the fixture list developed impressively.

The 1980's, however, saw the Club come of age culminating with a runners-up slot in the Welsh unofficial Club Championship and Whitbread Merit Table. Success in the Schweppes WRU Cup Competition has also been achieved by reaching the quarter finals in 1985, together with a string of successes in sevens competitions being losing finalists in the Snelling Sevens in 1985 and winners in 1986.

The 1990's have seen the introduction of leagues, not everyone's cup of tea. However they are here to stay, and like many fans the Wanderers have still to get to grips with them. Hopefully the 1992-93 season will prove successful.

HEINEKEN LEAGUE SECOND DIVISION

v. Cardiff

Friday 20th November, 1992. Kick-Off 7.15p.m.

TONIGHT - and there's a sadly underused rugby word these days - we welcome Cardiff to the Memorial Ground, a visit by the city's "other club" which always gives us particular pleasure.

Alec Evans is sure to be feeling more Aussie than usual right now but there's no doubting his contribution to Welsh rugby through his revitalisation of the Arms Park club this season - no-one round here, anyway, wants to see those West Walians have a monopoly on success and still less to hear about it at some length!

Last season's disappointments (and they were shared by us - we would have loved to have been the ONLY club to win on their pitch) are well behind them and it is good to see them getting back on course by playing the attractive brand of rugby for which the club is renowned.

As for ourselves, disappointment is hardly the word to describe the feelings following our defeat by Cross Keys in the last seconds of last Saturday's match. But at least the team, much of it home-grown played with a lot more spirit.

That added weight to the arguments of those who say you can't import success if the attitude is not right. And a commitment to Wanderers was clearly missing from some of our recent fleeting players.

Of course not all are like that and some have shown considerable dedication to the club, becoming along the way genuine Wanderers.

It may be taking a little longer than we had hoped but it is still our aim to give Cardiff two Division One clubs - and quickly. Victories over Dunvant (home next Saturday) and then Narberth away the following weekend would change the situation dramatically, so come and give the boys some big support.

In these financially difficult times the club are extremely grateful for the support given this evening by K.P.M.G. Peat Marwick McLintock. We hope Dick Roberts-Thomas, his colleagues and their guests enjoy the game and hospitality afterwards.

Those of you who are looking to make it an extended weekend of rugby why not watch the 2nd XI play hosts to Bristol United on Saturday morning, kick-off 11.45 a.m. Then on to the International, or drinks and T.V. at the club could be a good alternative.

Players Views

The more observant Wanderers fans will have noticed a few interesting hairstyles being sported recently. A conspicuous vacancy on Dai Duly's scalp is probably one of the more unusual. The barber responsible for this piece of vandalism is believed to be one of the club's hookers, but nobody was available to comment, for fear of similar action.

On the subject of Chris Greedy (oops, sorry Chris!), it's great to see his long and unjustified ban coming to an end. With Darren Morgan also returning to action, the front row will be able to boast real strength in depth.

Those who saw the Seconds play last Saturday will have witnessed the rare occurrence of Denver Thompson taking aim at the posts. However, Ioan Bebb and Brian Bolderson need not lose too much sleep because reports claimed that the dynamic flanker possessed what kickers refer to as a 'Toblerone' foot!

Tuesday night saw the club regain the services of a well respected coach. While sceptics may claim that the Wanderers may now be a case of 'too many chiefs and not enough Indians', those who know Selwyn Wyatt will agree that the club is all the richer for his return to the training field.
