SONNET FROM A SUPPORTER

CENTENARY OF
THE CARDIFF RUGBY FOOTBALL CLUB

Softly and silently tread on the turf
Where hundreds have played and bit into earth,
Locked in the scrum or raced out on the wing,
Hearts beating madly, in tune as crowds sing.

Bow your head rev'rently, and perhaps pray
In the 'Cathedral' where Cardiff teams play.
Reflect on the honours heaped by the score
And think of the fans, still shouting for more.

A cent'ry of seasons lightens the eye
Of proud club members who "Never say die",
Producing sportsmen, with the will to win.
(anything less is a cardinal sin).

A hundred years on it will be the same—
TOAST is "THE CLUB" and "A WONDERFUL GAME".
